You should talk to your parents about this. I'd wait a while, and if they don't bring it up to you guys, confront them, and ask them why they would split you guys up. Ask them if they took into account how you guys would feel. But do it all respectfully, don't be rude about it.

Well, just remember they are your parents. They raised you guys. Maybe they see this as best for the family. But I undestand the way you feel. When my brother went off to college, I hated it. It must be a lot worse for you though, because you don't know if Nacho will ever be back. And also, Nacho is your twin.
